THE JOURNAL OF THE BLACK CATHOLIC THEOLOGICAL SYMPOSIUM (BCTS), was founded in 2007.

MANUSCRIPTS, based on talks originally delivered at the Annual Meetings of the BCTS, should be submitted to the editorial board shortly after the Annual Meeting ends. They should be sent via electronic mail to the convener, Kimberly Flint-Hamilton: kflintha@stetson.edu. A hard copy of the manuscript should be mailed to: Kimberly Flint-Hamilton, Department of Sociology and Anthropology, Unit 8387, Stetson University, 421 North Woodland Blvd, Deland, FL, 32723. Contributors must submit original work. The Journal of the Black Catholic Theological Symposium is composed of original articles by its members, and will not publish manuscripts that have been previously published elsewhere.

REVIEWS of books or films that have relevance to the Black Catholic Theological Symposium may also be submitted, and will be considered for publication. Reviews originally published elsewhere will not be considered for publication.

MEMBERSHIP in the Black Catholic Theological Symposium is by invitation only. Those interested in joining the organization may review membership guidelines from Article II of the Constitution, posted on the BCTS web site: http://www.bcts.org/, and contact the secretary of the BCTS, Cecilia Moore, at the following electronic mail address: cecilia.moore@notes.udayton.edu.

The opinions expressed in the articles and/or reviews published in the Journal of the Black Catholic Theological Symposium are those of the authors and not of the editors or of the organization.

The Journal of the Black Catholic Theological Symposium is provided to all paid members of the BCTS. Additional copies of the journal for the price listed on the cover plus shipping costs may be obtained by contacting Steven Hamilton, Managing Editor of Fortuity Press, at the following electronic mail address: managingeditor@fortuitypress.com.
